ABOUT THE BOOK: Armaan's new dog Bonkers is insane: he chews Armaan's spectacles, eats up his favourite shoe and gets him into deep trouble with the school bully, TT. Between mopping, toilet training Bonkers and escaping from TT, Armaan's life has become impossible ... will it ever get back to normal?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Natasha Sharma's childhood had crazy episodes, featuring dogs, rabbits, ducks, guinea pigs, horses, buffaloes and the occasional squirrel, all in her backyard. Though she considered being a veterinarian or an architect, she graduated in Math, did an MBA, worked as a brand manager, and is now happily doing what she loves most – writing books for children

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR: Deepti Sunder could always be found with her head buried in a book when she was younger, and for that matter, even now (uninterrupted book reading is rather a challenging affair as you grow older though).

Deepti is currently based in Mumbai and is passionate about music, art & craft, books & travel. She has graduated in architecture, but felt her heart lay elsewhere all through her studies. Now she juggles between illustration and designing clothes and accessories. Having discovered the magical world of illustration, she can't imagine ever looking back.
